

EARLY GROWTH FINANCIAL SERVICES EXPANDS TAX TEAM WITH ADDITION OF NEW CHIEF TAX OFFICER ANJUM TUNULI

Tunuli will head industry-leading tax services division for startups and small to mid-sized businesses.

San Fran. (Dec. 15, 2015) - Early Growth Financial Services (EGFS) is pleased to announce the latest addition to its full-service tax department, Chief Tax Officer Anjum Tunuli. Under Tunuli's direction, the tax practice of EGFS will continue its commitment to providing tax services and consulting to individuals, small businesses and venture-backed startup companies in a variety of industries.

An accomplished tax executive, with over twelve years of experience, Tunuli has worked with successful small to mid-sized companies and their ownership groups. Tunuli also has a very successful track record representing taxpayers before various taxing agencies, as well as achieving great success for his clients by drawing on innovative thinking in order to understand the full financial impact of tax planning on his clients' business operations.

"Taxes are a regular and important part of every single business. It is important to the companies we service that our expertise can see their tax work through year after year," said David Ehrenberg, Founder and CEO of Early Growth Financial Services. "Acumen and experience are equally important when it comes to tax compliance; Anjum brings a wealth of tax knowledge and previous work to the table for our clients."

Previously, Anjum Tunuli was working with an emerging company to determine tax effects of shifting operations outside the United States, which resulted in tax deferrals that allowed the company to grow rapidly and eventually exit via sale to a publicly traded company.

"EGFS has long been a proven leader in the small business sector, especially with their tax offering," said Tunuli. "Many companies rely on EGFS every day for many of the financial aspects of their business. I am looking forward to running a team of seasoned tax professionals that ultimately gives startups and other small businesses a trustworthy partner they can turn to for their recurring tax work."

Tunuli will lead a team of dedicated tax experts that work with EGFS clients exclusively on their monthly, quarterly and annual tax requirements.
